Lift the flap

Out in the fields, there are shepherds, looking after their sheep. Baa, baa!
Suddenly, the sky is filled with light.
Someone is bringing them good news,
Someone very bright. Blink, blink!
Who could that be?

It's someone who's hiding behind the door.
Who it is we can't be sure.
Open up a little more . . .

It's an angel!
'Don't be afraid!' says the angel.
'God has sent me here to say,
God's own Son was born today!'
Then the shepherds hurry to Bethlehem to find him.

The shepherds kneel by the manger.
They can't wait to see the person who will bring peace and joy to all the world!
Who could that be?

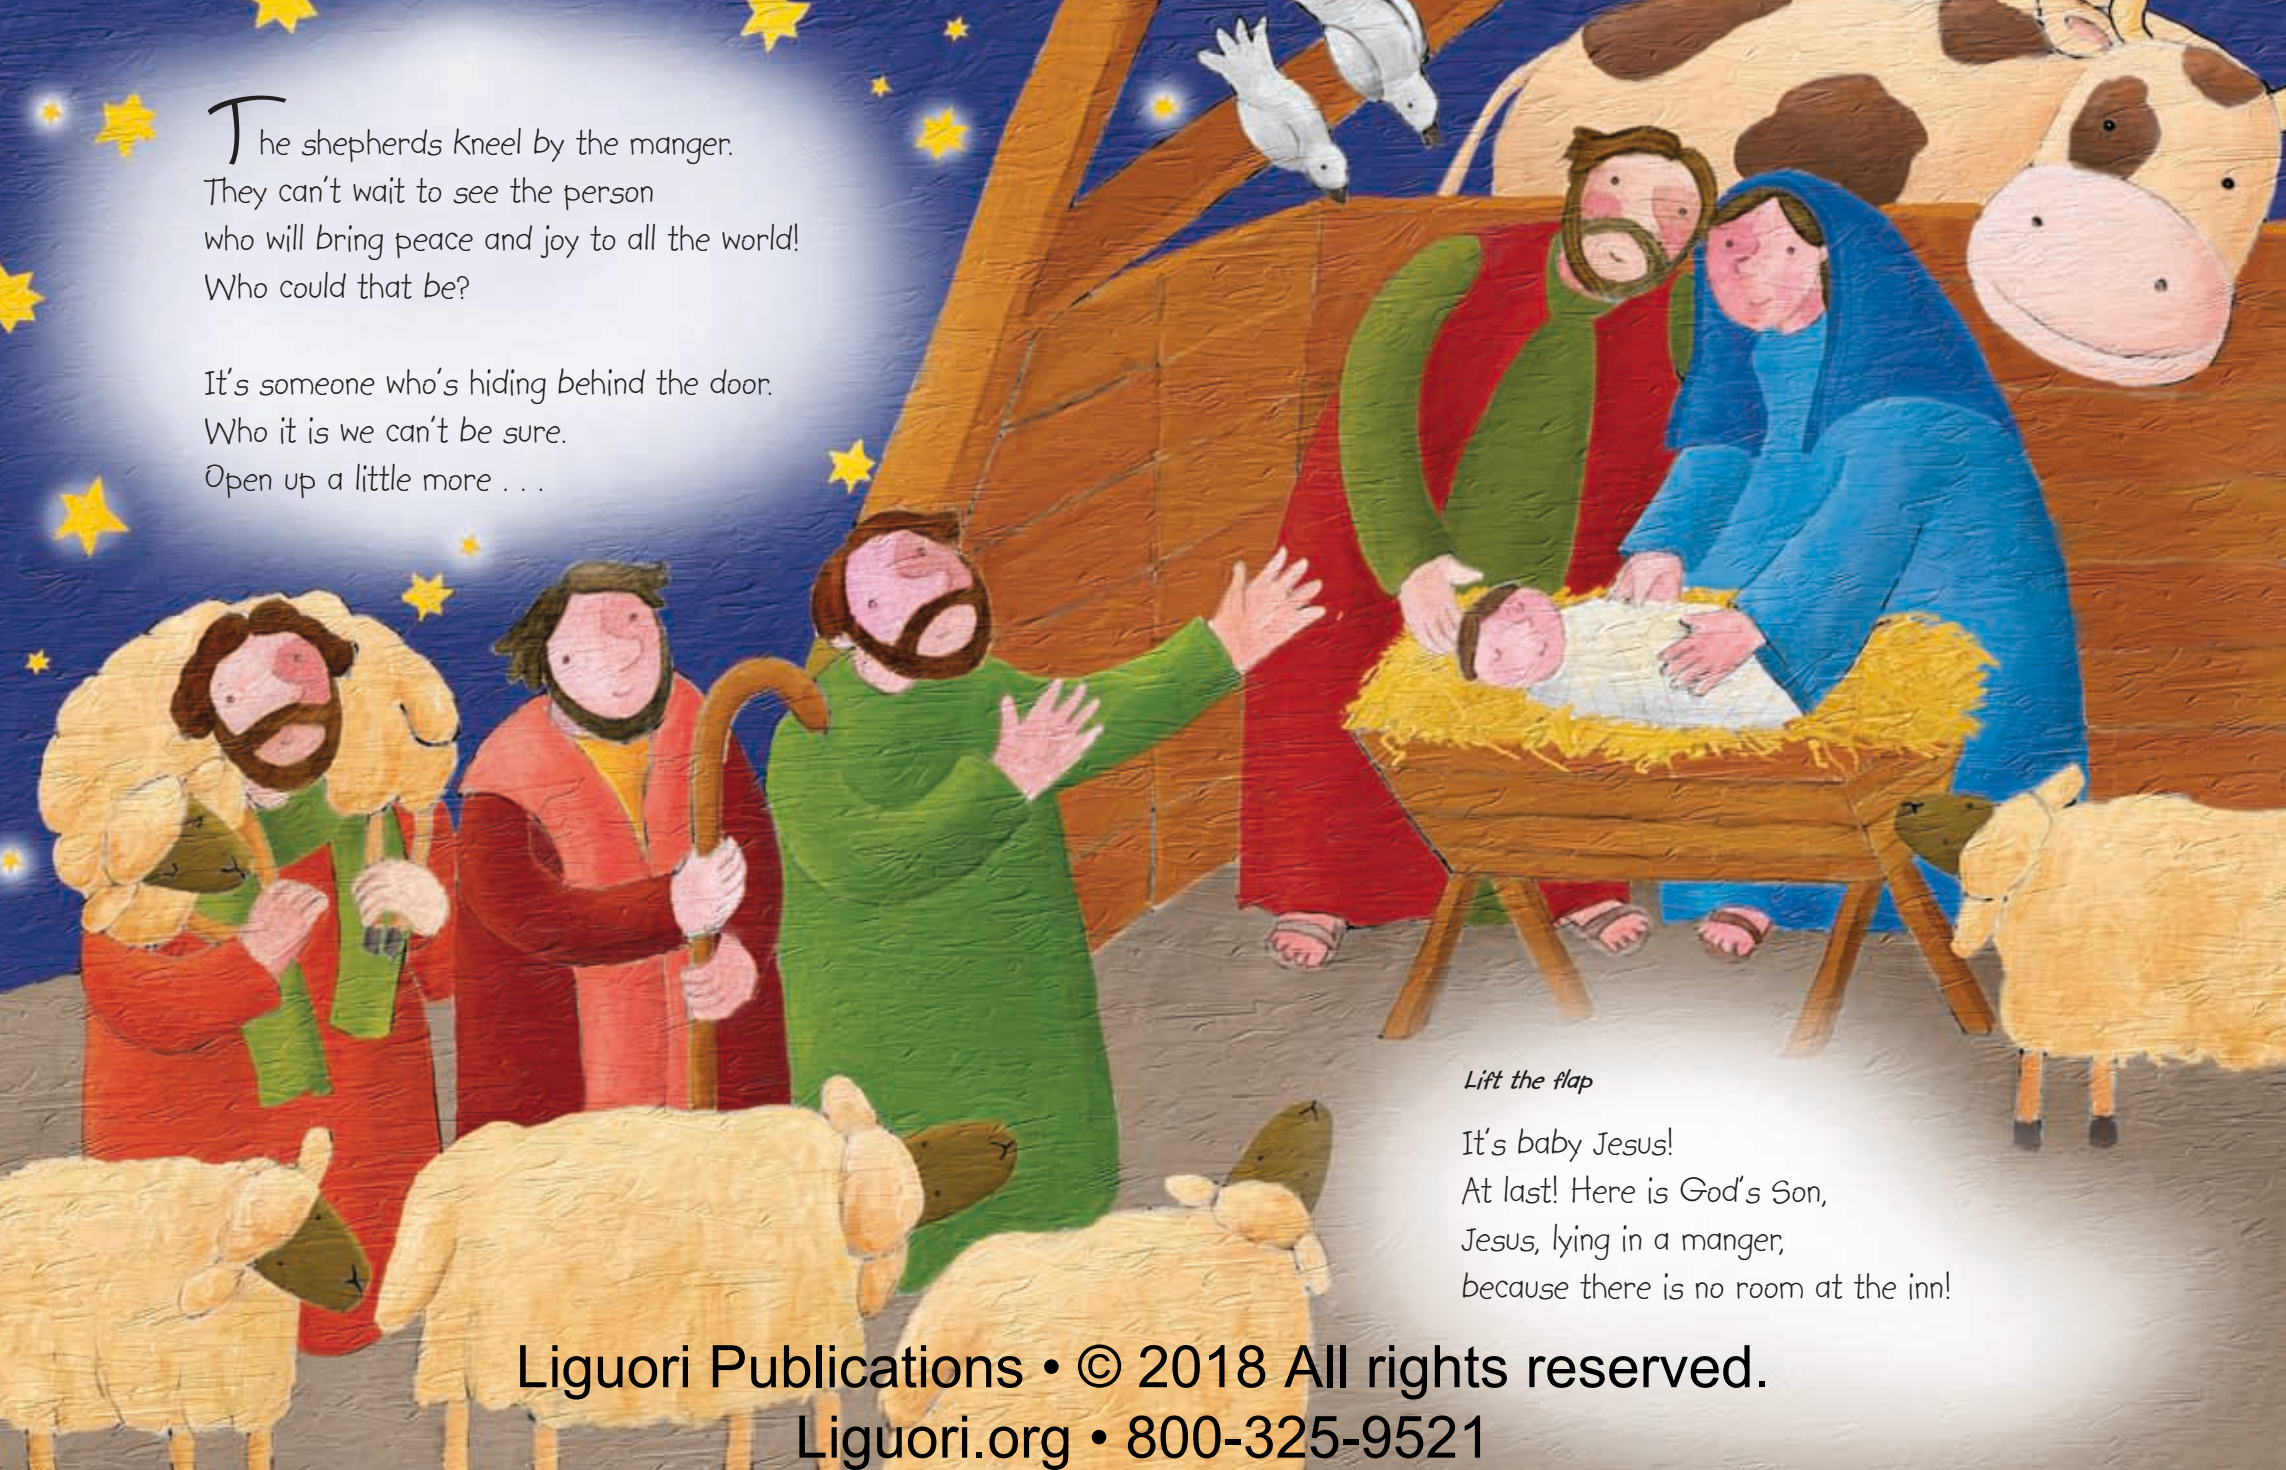

It's someone who's hiding behind the door.
Who it is we can't be sure.

Lift the flap

It's baby Jesus!
At last! Here is God's Son,
Jesus, lying in a manger,
because there is no room at the inn!
